Sounds like a good approach.

I could direct the board to determine what constitutes a high-demand profession, and in making that determination, require the board to consider the joint determination regarding high-demand fields under s. 38.28 (2) (be). Does that sound okay?

Mark,

Yes, create a ch. 38 requirement for WTCS Board to make the grants. I do not want to complicate the draft, but if in addition to a cross reference to the s. 38.28 (2)(be) joint determination, the draft could also allow the WTCS Board to make determination on what constitutes a high-demand profession (so either definition could be used), that would provide more flexibility in getting the money to the districts, which I believe is the intent of the requestors. Do that sound OK to use both approaches?

Thanks, Dave

Dave:

For the above amendment, you want to create a continuing appropriation to the WTCS Board (board) for training for high-demand professions.

I assume that the money will get to the districts via the board, so is it okay to create a requirement in ch. 38 for the board to make the grants to the districts for the above purpose?

Also, current law requires DWD and the board to jointly determine what constitutes high-demand fields, which is used as a factor in making performance-based allocations of state aid to the districts. See s. 38.28 (2) (be) 1. b. Do you want to rely on the joint DWD-board determination of a high-demand field, or should the board be allowed to make its own determination about what constitutes a high-demand profession?
